

XENIAL INVENTORY

Inventory Management That's As Mobile As You Are

Is running out... running rampant in your stores? Supply not keeping pace can break your high-volume restaurant processes. Overstocking, understocking, wastage and payment reconciliation can crush your profits. It's time to tie your supply with demand to intelligently track your business.

Xenial Inventory pulls all your relevant information into one place through the entire store and supply chain. Forecasting, counting, tracking and alerting all come together to wipe out cost overruns and implement budget controls.

And Xenial Inventory is more powerful as a team. It pulls in POS sales data from Xenial Ordering and it plays nice with other systems too. It connects seamlessly to Xenial Analytics & Reporting or third-party products to pull costs straight into your enterprise data stream, allowing you to look for trends and examine profitability at a single store or an entire global operation.

Keep your stores running on budget instead of running out of supply with Xenial.
